1. Introduction Public administration in the 21st century is undergoing dramatic change, especially in advanced economies, but also in many parts of the developing world.

From Old Public Administration to the New Public Service

Street-level bureaucracy is the subset of a public agency or government institution where the civil servants work who have direct contact with members of the general public. Street-level civil servants carry out and/or enforce the actions required by a government's laws and public policies, in areas ranging from safety and security to education and social services.
